TRY THIS ON YOUR PIANO.
If we could better what's to come
By brooding long and acting grim—
We'd all be gloom.
Pain and despair are somber twins,
But they can't hurt the man who grins.
Cheer up.
This life is what we make it, and
Fate deals the crab a losing hand,
And hope consumes.
We're only here a little while,
So let that while be one long smile.
Cheer up.

Marriage is a tie—when it isn't a noose.

The river at this point is rising rapidly, with the gauge showing 35 feet this morning. It is not likely that the water here will reach a stage of over 45 feet, if that, or the present rise. The snow having almost entirely disappeared and the ice in the river gone, there is no apparent danger of an extraordinary big river at this point from the present rise.

Have "that tired feeling" come over you when you saw shamelessly displayed in bold-faced type that hoary mercantile chestnut "SELLING OFF AT COST?" The expression is about as old as deception. FOR PRESIDENT,

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

The brew that made Milwaukee famous also seems to have made that city grow. Its population has increased thirty-one per cent. Wonder how large a growth the "dry" towns of the country have shown?

There is hardly a person in Clark county who wants to be placed in the Seventh Congressional District. The political mess, which is a biennial affair, is now on, and has begun to smell wretched, lo, it stinketh!—Winchester Democrat.

Probably the only regret which the Roosevelt managers feel about the scandalous steam-roller methods of the Federal machine in the contest for the Presidency is that they are not in possession of the machine themselves.—New York Press.

Mr. Roosevelt's address before the Ohio Constitutional convention at Columbus removes him from the Republican party and makes it impossible that the nomination to be made at Chicago can go to him. From beginning to end there is not a Republican doctrine or profession of faith in the speech, but there is throughout a bold and defiant renunciation of the principles of that party. Mr. Roosevelt forswears allegiance to the party that made him President, and now takes the field as its enemy and destroyer.

It is an astonishing spectacle that this ex-President now presents to the view of the American people. But if he is to be a candidate, it is now clear that he must be named by some faction or as yet nameless remnant of what was once his party.—New York Times.

Dyspeptic Philosophy.

A dollar will go farther if you mail it than if you bet it.
Woman is only the weaker vessel before she is manned.
Many a political plum has turned out to be a lemon in disguise.
The fellow who depends on a train of thought doesn't always get there on time.
With all his faults the devil never puts off till to-morrow what he can do to-day.
If there is anything at all in a person, an ocean voyage will bring it out.
All women are riddles, and the plainer they are the more readily men give them up.
The typical modern man is a fine fellow, and a great improvement over his Uncle Ape, who never knew anything for certain except that he was hungry, and could do nothing creditable beyond running a foot race.

In Clark county fowls are said to be dying by the hundred of a disease which is baffling the most learned of poultry raisers. All varieties of medicine have been used with no results, and one lady lost about fifty last week within a few days.

The days have increased nearly an hour and a quarter in length since the winter solstice, December 21st.

Mr. Gilmore's letter to the members of the Legislature on the liquor question partakes of a growl and lament.

NICK LONGWORTH is now serving his last term in Congress as Cincinnati will repudiate him in no uncertain terms at the next election.

The fight between Taft and Roosevelt is going to be a battle of giants. The grinning Theodore with Napoleonic egotism, is going to have the walloping of his life. Roosevelt's ambition has over-leaped itself and he is simply blinded by his colossal self esteem. One may easily discount his finish.

Within the next few months all the world will have an opportunity to see how a day is spent in the White House. President and Mrs. Taft recently posed for a group of pictures and photographs were taken of them as they walked through the grounds of the executive mansion. The pictures taken will be combined with others and made into a sketch to be called "A Day in the White House."

PRESIDENT TAFT, it is said would refuse to be a candidate for re-election on a platform containing the Theodore Roosevelt "charter of Democracy" if the Chicago convention would refuse to run on the Roosevelt Platform. The decision of a state court on a constitutional question should be subject to revision by the people of the state and should declare for the recall of judges.

He would withdraw as a candidate for renomination if they should build a Roosevelt platform at Chicago on which Taft could not stand and if he should decline renomination, there would be nothing to do but nominate Roosevelt, and the colonel would have his wish of being "drafted for service" gratified. But such a contingency is very remote.

The child's world is bounded by the walls of the home. To the little child, father and mother are potentates and no king or queen has greater authority to utter a final word than parents have in the hearing of the child. How then can it be explained that little children are intractable, disobedient and obstinate? In nearly every instance of infantile rebellion parents have only themselves to blame. They have the little one under their hand from the hour of earliest consciousness and gentle authority never intermitted and always loving would make the child's world what it ought to be, a place of fullest sunshine. "Train up a child in the way he should go" signifies study of the child, sympathy with its joys and its griefs and understanding of its inexperience.—Christian Herald.

LESSON FROM THE PAST.

Chicago Tribune. The Chinese were resenting one of the early attempts to take a national census. "It's some Roosevelt chap trying to take a straw vote!" they exclaimed. With stones and much weird profanity they drove the enumerators out of their houses.

HAPPENINGS IN THE CITIES

Deserter's Story Preserved in Stone

SCRANTON, PA.—After lying buried in the roots of a tree for more than a century, it is thought, a stone tablet bearing the confession of a revolutionary soldier's infamy has been found by William Sherer of this city. Sherer is a cripple, and while wandering through the woods, near Rattlesnake Pond, in Spring Brook township, he accidentally brushed away the dirt from a piece of flagstone that caught his attention.

When the coating was removed the following inscription was exposed to Sherer's astonished eyes: "My name is John Nair. Born in 1747. I ran away from the battle of Brandywine in 1777."

With Sherer when he made this interesting discovery were John Hartman and Harry and Louise Pilger. They viewed the find with bulging eyes and finally aided Sherer in a closer inspection. When the tablet was tilted on one side the excited group discovered a small pocket in the other side. Pebbles were packed tightly into the slit, and when they were removed an instrument resembling a nail was revealed. It was about three and a half inches long and it had evidently been used to chronicle the history of John Nair's shame. The stone is of strange oblong shape, about ten inches at its greatest length and seven inches across. Its thickness is about three inches. The inscription covers three-fourths of the smooth face of the stone, and the lettering is wonderfully plain. The letters are uniformly an inch high and an eighth of an inch deep.

Among the hundreds of persons who have viewed the tablet in a central city display window, there is no doubt that the inscription is genuine. The letters are the same color as the stone, a light brown, and there is a suggestion of freshness. It is generally believed that the carving was done soon after the historic incident mentioned in the inscription. It is a peculiar coincidence that Sherer made his discovery almost on the anniversary of the battle of Brandywine. The battle was fought Sept. 11, 1777, 134 years ago.

It is thought that John Nair, a deserter from the continental army, journeyed northward toward the Connecticut settlements and stopped to rest under the tree. In those days the nearest settlement to Rattlesnake Pond was historic Wyoming, about 25 miles to the south, and this region was a wilderness. In the quiet of the forest the fugitive probably yielded to a gnawing of conscience and wrote his confession upon the tablet. Whether he lived to tell it with his lips will probably never be known.

Several instances where a species of the termites, differing but little from those in the bottle, has nearly caused great havoc and loss of life in Cleveland buildings, were given by Professor Odenbach. In one dry goods store he found the oak uprights supporting an entire department under which a number of girls were working, almost eaten through by the omnivorous insects.

Another case was that of a machine shop where uprigths supporting the roof, pulleys and shafting had been hollowed out by the termites. They have a penchant for paper—it is like ice cream and cake to them, Father Odenbach says.

Keeps Ants in Bottle for Ten Years

CLEVELAND, OHIO.—Away up in the tower of St. Ignatius' college, where is situated the observatory and the sanctuary of Father Odenbach, astronomer, are several hundred ants that have lived ten years in a bottle corked with an aluminum stopper, without any food save small pieces of sound quarter-sawn wood moistened with water.

This somewhat unpalatable ration is served to the ants by Father Odenbach about once a month. And although commonly known as "white ants," the most destructive to wood, particularly to oak, of any known insects, they are really not ants at all, but termites and members of the "darning needle" family.

The bottle is nearly covered on the inside by a slimy, cement-like excrement given out by the insects in moving about. The bottle has been changed once during the ten years, and then because that which they first occupied was accidentally broken by the savant.

The particular "ants" Father Odenbach has come from Florida. Many have died, but others have been born, the number remaining about the same.

The bodies of those who die are eaten by the survivors and it is not infrequent for some of the insects to kill one another by the cannibalistic method.

Wealthy Thief Erratic Since His Duel

NEW YORK.—Matthew W. Harbeson, son of the millionaire founder of the brick trust and great-grandson of Robert Morris, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, who was sent to jail for thirty days for stealing a loaf of bread, has been "erratic" ever since he fought a duel many years ago, his mother declared.

Recorder Medina, in Woodcliff, N. J., sentenced Harbeson on complaint of a grocer who saw him take a loaf from his bread box.

Harbeson, who married a maid in his mother's household, has five children and lives in one of the show places in Woodcliff, which his mother bought for him.

"Matthew has not been well since he was wounded in a duel at Kiel university, where he studied many years," said Mrs. Harbeson. "It was the custom then to fight with schlagers. He was the best swordsman in the university, and, to use a slang expression, was the 'goat' whenever his college had been offered an insult by another university."

"The most serious duel, the one in which he received so vicious a cut that the removal of a part of his skull was necessitated, arose when a German student insisted the Rhine was wider than the Hudson river. There were hot words and a challenge resulted."

"There was no reason for my son's act other than his ill health, which has made him a trifle erratic. I have given him a good monthly income, besides paying all his running expenses and the interest on his property. I think his eccentricities are due to the many wounds he received in his duels. He fought thirty-seven in all."

"I shall go to him at once and see what can be done. I deplore this sort of thing. It hurts me terribly."

My stock of CANNED GOODS is unusually large, put up by the best packers in the country and bought in large quantities direct. I am prepared to meet any and all competition, both as to prices and quality of goods.

Fancy Creamery Butter always in stock and fresh COUNTRY EGGS. I do not handle Chicago storage eggs and never did. I am always pleased to have my friends call, which I hope they will always do.

A light repast will be served on sea shells, the food being made water proof by incasing it in a thin coating of gelatine. Rubber pipes run from the yacht above will convey liquid refreshment to the guests, who can connect with a cocktail or cordial by squeezing the correct signal.

These Dancers Must Don Diving Suits

LOS ANGELES.—Society women of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Pasadena are planning a fete on the bottom of the ocean off Catalina Island early this spring. It is such a party that even Rome in its greatest days never saw the equal.

Walter Howison Pritchard, marine artist, is arranging details, and, according to him, guests are to be attired in diving suits, each with an oxygen tank or air tubes.

Catalina Island has been chosen for the affair because of the extraordinary clearness of the water and remarkable marine gardens at the bottom of the sea.

The bottom of the ocean will be illuminated by electric bulbs, and by a unique arrangement music from a band on a yacht anchored overhead will be conveyed through the water, acting as a sounding board.

The "merry trot" and three entirely new dances, the "mermaid dip," the "dive," and the "merry wiggles," will be danced by the guests to the strains of the band.

If possible a real mermaid will be secured to take part in the "dip." There will be no trouble getting lobster for the "claw" dance, it is said.

"Reggie" Van Toole, popular as a cotillon leader, has composed a catchy waltz named "My Submarine Sue," which will be played for the first time in marine public.

A light repast will be served on sea shells, the food being made water proof by incasing it in a thin coating of gelatine. Rubber pipes run from the yacht above will convey liquid refreshment to the guests, who can connect with a cocktail or cordial by squeezing the correct signal.

OLD FOLKS

Can Live Longer, Doctor Says

"One reason old people do not live to be older," says a famous physician, "is because they do not keep up their interest in life. They ought not to 'let go.'"

But when they are weakened through poor appetite and loss of sleep, you can't expect them to be so much interested in current events.

Let them first regain most of their former vigor, by using Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation, on which so many elderly people depend for good health.

According to F. R. Schoen, Justice of the Peace, Elk Mountain, Wyo., his neighbor, Charles T. Bourk, 84 years old, was very sick and ready to give up, but Vinol put him on his feet again and now he says: "Nothing ever helped me like Vinol—I could not do without it."

Vinol is sure to do you good if you are run down and weak—we guarantee this, and will pay back your money if you are not satisfied. J. C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, Ky.

Demand For Tobacco Land

There is a heavy demand among growers and tenants for tobacco land in this and surrounding Blue Grass counties. Since the improved conditions of the tobacco situation, as evidenced by the splendid prices received for the weed in Central Kentucky towns where there is a tobacco market and the indications are that this year's crop of burley will be a banner one. The assured success of the ten-year pooling plan has also stimulated the tobacco growing industry which will tend to increase the acreage.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

The "Little Giant" Got a Hard Knock From Burly Ruffian

The Ledger: It was about the close of President Pierce's, or beginning of Buchanan's labor-pains; don't distinctly remember. Only know I wasn't offspring of either, and with me at that time political parentage wasn't a question. With a myriad of others in Washington was most times writing, McCawber-like "waiting for something to turn up," my last wind-fall having been an special mission to several European points; $5 a day and all coming of it; most times something came of it, my expenses, additional, being paid. But that concerned Uncle Samuel—not yours truly.

At time of which I write, Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois, was United States Senator, not only so, but, like unto LaFollette, Roosevelt and some more, was proving an element of political indigestion—plugging party stomachs and hard of elimination.

With the necessities of bread and butter, I'd vibrated here and there, my latest asset being Private Secretary to Senator Douglas.

Something was going on in Baltimore; by the way, something was eternally going on in Baltimore. If not, those having right to know, would demand reason why? I can't re-

MUST BELIEVE IT

WHEN WILL KNOWN MATSVILLE PEOPLE TELL IT SO PLAINLY

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Maysville the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

Mrs. Della Means, 323 East Front street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"About seven years ago kidney trouble made its appearance in my case, the first symptom being sharp pains through my kidneys, accompanied by a bearing-down feeling across my hips and loins. Dull, miserable headaches were also common and I often became so dizzy that if I did not catch hold of something I would fall. I continued to grow worse, until I was often confined to my bed for a week at a time. No remedy I tried helped me, and I began to have symptoms of dropsy. My body became bloated and I had about despaired of ever being cured, when I read of a person who had been cured of similar trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. Deciding to try them, I procured a supply at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore, and obtained so much relief from the use of the first box that I continued taking this remedy until I was entirely cured. I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life."

call specials for this occasion, so frequent were they, nor yet names of the many distinguished attendants. Only remember that I was there, on the inside for all that concerned the Hon. Stephen A.

The transit was short—only about forty miles from Washington. But I stole away for a smoke in another car. When getting something out of it, there came a rude grip from behind, and a bellow like unto a bull—

"Didn't I see ya talkin' to Senator Douglas?"

"Yes."

"Do you know 'em?"

"Some."

"I want to speak to 'em."

He was a giant, and his request came with all the force of a command. We went. With little ceremony and very promptly I said:

"Senator Douglas, this gentleman wishes a word with you."

Douglas arose, coming to about waist-band of his interlocutor. "Pleased to meet you," he said.

It isn't words to convey the manner of inquiry. "Be ye a descendant of the great Black Douglas of Scotland?"

The Senator replied, suavely, as was his custom: "Am proud to know, sir, that I am."

The response came with vim, vigor and snap:

"And one bill of a descent it was!"

This incident has become historic; it happened; I was there.

"GREEDY GUT"

Boy Stopped to Eat Pies and the House Burned Down

It won't do to stop to eat pies when the house is burning. The boy at Washington many years ago demonstrated the truth of this assertion, when upon being started out to give the alarm of fire one Saturday night, and reasoning that that might be the last chance he would get at the pies in the pantry awaiting Sunday's dinner, he halted there to eat a few and take some along, the house being on the outskirts of town. What with that delay and his mouth being most too full for proper utterance, the alarm came too late, and an historic house went up in flames; built in very early times and once occupied by a prominent member of Congress.
